The Gevernors' Convention.

Governor McKinney has received a letter from Governor Fishback, of Arkansas, saying that from advices received by him nine Governors will be present at the approaching convention and two others will probably attend: Others will be prevented by reason of the fact that their legislatures are in session, but will co-oparate.

Governor Northen, of Georgia, writes Governor McKinney that he regrets that pressure of official business will interfere with his attending the convention. He known however, that the occasion will be a most pleasant one and trusts the laudable and public-spirited purposes of the assembly may be ultimately fully realized.

There are also some minor internal-revenue cases for the grand jury to consider.

A good many people "knecked off" and joined in some of the many pic-nic parties that left the color was the rairoad adserted, Sunday appearance. Several Richmond parties passed through the city en route to the woods of Chesterfield.

It is understood that the business done by the Manchester post-office during the fiscal year ending the 1st of this month has been sufficiently large to justify an increase of $100 per annum in the salary of the Postmaster.

Washington, D. C., April 3.—Secretary Hoke Smith has received the following telegram from Agent Dennett at Wagoner, I. T., relative to the threatened Choctaw troubles: "Temporary truce arranged yesterday, Armed forces debanded. Situation yet serious and seemingly uncompromisable under present Choctaw government. Full report will be mailed to-night. Pencing your consideration and action all hostilities cease. While great relief is experienced at disbanding of armed forces, the feeling is one of dread and uncertainty." A copy of this telegram has been sent to the Secretary of War for his consideration.

ONANCOCK, April 3.—The grand jury of Accounte County Court is after those who fail to pay the income tax in this county. At its recent meeting the following was

At its recent meeting the following was unanimously adopted:

"Whereas it has come to the knowledge of this grand jury that the assessment of taxes on incomes is generally ignored by the citizens of this county; and whereas upon the examination of numerous witnesses it is shown that the omission is largely due to a misunderstanding of the law (see chapter 244, schedule D, page 202, Acts Assembly 1889-'90); therefore

"Resolved, That this jury is satisfied that a large number of citizens are liable to presentment and indictment for this offence, and suggest in the event of a continuation of this offence that the large property-holders of the county and those who are known to receive incomes in excess of $600 who pay no tax on incomes be summoned before the grand jury."

The officials of the county report that only a very few in Accomac pay this tax; hence the action of the grand jury.

Louis' Fedder, a Russian, formerly doing business as a retail liquor-dealer at Dunkirk, in the southern part of Accomac, was convicted of perjury in the County Court and sentenced to be confined in juil for one hour and to pay a fine of $5. Some time last winter Fedder was convicted in the same court of selling liquor on Sunday and allowing gambling in his place of business, for which his license was revoked and he was fined $220 and costs.

DEMOCRATIC MASS-MEETING.

Dr. John W. Bowdoin, chairman of the Democratic County Committee, has called district mass-meetings for next Saturday to adopt plans for nominating candidates for district offices to be filled at the May election. There is an unusually large crop of candidates for these offices in Accomac at this time. In the Pungoteague District eix candidates are out for the office of Constable. All these happened to meet in Wachapreague several days ago, and a joint discussion was soon arranged. A goods box was rolled up on the south side of a store for a platform, and for more than an hour the people cnjoyed the fun of seeing the rival candidates make the fur fly from each other. Mr. Thomas Hodson, of Crisfield; General Bradley T. Johnson, of Baltimore, and Attorney-General Poe, of Maryland, will appear for the dredgers. It is said that the counsel for the dredgers will admit that they were taking oysters south of the boundary-line between Maryland and Virginia, but that according to the compact of 1785 Virginia has no right to arrest and punish citizens of Maryland for taking oysters in Pocomoke and Tangier sounds without concurrent legislation on the part of Maryland dredgers fail to sustain their contention in the courts of this State it is said they will take the case to the United States Court. PERSONAL NOTES.

Mrs. John Henderson, formerly a resident of this town died several days ago at her home, near Pungoteague, at an advanced age. She had been in many respects a very remarkable woman, and was especially noted for her fine business capacity and executive ability.

It is announced that Mr. George F. Parramore, a well-known lawyer of Accomac Courthouse, will retire from the practice of his profession at the end of this month, and will probably move to California, where he will resume the practice of law.

Dr. Lafferty, editor of the Richmond Christian Advocate, is announced to visit the Eastern Shore some time this month with several of his "cloud-compelling" lectures. Farmers will take due notice thereof and govern themselves accordingly.

OYSTER CASES DISMISSED. The Test of the Law Abandoned-Great

[Correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch.]

TAPPARANNOCK, VA., April 3.—The Circuit Court of Mathews county has adjourned, and the famous oyster cases, in which injunctions had been awarded by Judge T. R. B. Wright against the commander of the Chesapeake, the Oyster Inspector of Mathews county, and others, restraining the same from collecting the oyster-tax and to test the constitutionality of the law, was abandoned by the plaintiffs and the cause dismissed.

This suit was instituted for the purpose of testing the constitutionality of the oyster law, the plaintiffs claiming that the Legislature had no right—first, to tax the ordinary tongs; second, to tax the patent tongs; third, to authorize leases of cyster-grounds; fourth, to authorize the county judges to pass final judgment on the question of the locations held by the lessee and of the natural oyster-rocks without the intervention of a jury. A very great amount of interest has been manifested in Mathews and adjoining countres in these questions, which are of such vast interest to the oystermen.

fires have been razing in the vicinity of Kelton and on Skimmo farm, the latter place lying in the upper part of York county, very near York river. The fire is supposed to have originated in the clearing off of some new ground. Several gentiemen of the neighborhood fought the fire Saturday and Sunday until it was subdued, so that no further damage is feared from it. The only losses sustained was the home of a colored man (everything in the house and the house itself being destroyed) and a new pair of speciacles which one of the gentiemen lost while fighting the fire.

DEATONNVILLE, AMELIA, VA., April 3.—
Forest fires have been very destructive in the last few days. On Saturday night five large fires could be seen at different points. In Amelia Mr. William Craddock lost his dwelling house and all out-houses. On the line of Amelia and Nottoway Mrs. Verser's house and jout-houses were burned up. The houses on the land of Miss Annie Miller was destroyed on her Amelia place. Dr. C. R. Irving lost a barn, and yourfoor-respendent was informed yesterday that Mr. William B. Vaughans, of Nottoway, had his house burned up. Mr. Warrener, at Jetersville, lost $130 in cord wood. The Richmond and Danville Railroad Company lost a large quantity of wood.

The causes of the fires are not definitely known at this time, but will be investigated. The whole community was out fighting the raging element. The fires this morning appear to be under control. The loss in fencing was possibly the heaviest sustained. It will be hard to replace at this stime, as the farmers are so busy with their crops. Fencing Burned.

Belfast and Elsewhere.

[By Anglo-American cable to the Dispatch.]

Belfast, April 3.—Right Hon, A. J. Balfour, Conservative leader in the House of Commons, and formerly Chief Secretary for Ireland, arrived in Belfast to-day to deliver addresses in support of the opposition of the Ulster Unionists to home rule. A vast concourse greated him on his arrival, and thousands of Unionists cheered loudly as he made his appearance. The multitude was so enthusiastic that they took the horses out of the carriage which bore the Conservative statesman and eagerly sought the honor of drawing the vehicle through the streets. There was an extensive display of flags, and the bands played Orange and Loyalists airs. Numerous deputations presented formal and cordial greetings to the ex-Secretary, dwelling upon the loyalty of Ulster to union with Great Britain, and extolling the services of Mr. Balfour to the cause. Mr. Balfour replied with an earnest declaration of the resolution of the Conservatives to resist home rule to the utmost.

At Tarne, seventeen and one-half miles from Belfast, Mr. Balfour also had an enthusiastic greeting and listened to an address in behalf of the Ulster Unionists, to which he delivered a reply appropriate from the Conservative standpoint.

A Boom in Chesapeakes.

Among the low-priced specialties. Chesa peake and Ohio loomed into prominence on purchases supposed to be for account of Drexel. Morgan & Co., says the New York correspondent of the Baitimore Sun. The rise was said to be based upon the prospect of a close alliance with the Richmond Terminal, the terms of whose recreations will be announced within the next few days. It is thought by some that Mr. Morgan may decide upon some mothod while in London Exchange. It is listed there, but is not traded in to any great extent. An application has been made to list the bonds and these may be quoted there before long. Friends of Chesapeake and Ohio are talking very hopefully about the property, and point to the fine showing of net carnings so far in its fiscal year as fully warranting their hopeful expressions. As a low-priced stock Chesapeake and Ohio common has attractions because of the association of the Vanderbilts with it. They are supposed to hold about 200,000 shares at least which are held for a good deal higher price. Mr. Huntington is supposed to hold probably 100,000 shares, while a few other large capitalists are believed to hold another 100,000, all of which is out of the traced. This leaves only about 200,000 shares to be traced in on the street. When Mr. Morgan gets ready to boom Chesapeakes it is said that there is very little in the way of putting it to 40 very quickly. A Boom in Chesapeakes.
